Conclusion

Ziara Travels Limited was started by people who love travel and have experienced the same in various parts of the world. The company was founded by dreams of a passionate travel consultant who could not come to terms with the reason why local tourism is extremely low in a country rich in flora, fauna, natural features and top notch accommodation – A destination frequented more by outsiders than its own people.

This dream pushed her into marketing local hotels, national parks and airlines to the local people in a bid to increase local tourism and at the same time build a related brand entity - ZIARA.
